QUICK ACTION FOR FARM AID DECIDED UPON

New $10,000,000 Credit Corporation to Get Dollars to Work Immediately

OUTLINE BROAD SCOPE

Will Provide Ample Credit to Carry on Good Risks—Plan Direct Farmer Aid

The $10,000,000 agricultural credit corporation formed by private capital with a borrowing capacity of $100,000,000 will begin functioning without delay, P. C. Remington, president of the City National Bank and a member of the North Dakota advisory committee, informed Governor Newton and State Examiner Semington this morning upon his return from Minneapolis where he attended a conference called to work out the plan of action of the company. Mr. Remington will return to Minneapolis tonight for two or three days in connection with the company.

A conference will be held here Friday morning with the North Dakota committee of six bankers—E. E. Barron of Minot; T. O. Tollefson of Dickinson; O. S. Hanson of Grand Forks; E. J. Weiser of Fargo; R. R. Wolf of Jamestown and Mr. Remington present together with the Governor, state examiner, banking board and members of the Guaranty Fund Commission.

Plan of Action

The plan of action of the company generally is as follows: Four field men will be placed in charge of sections in North Dakota, one each in Bismarck, Grand Forks, Fargo and Minot. The field men will be under the committee of the various districts, the local man being under Mr. Tollefson and Mr. Remington. They will travel through the district finding out where they can give credit relief, send their report to the state committee men in turn see quick action from the credit company office in Minneapolis.

There also will be a field man at large in North Dakota in connection with efforts to determine from ravels what manner the company can best aid farmers in meeting as due interest on farm loans and delinquent taxes and to enable them to continue operations.

O. Grunwald, formerly of Rogers, who served with the War Finance Corporation, has been named vice-president for North Dakota.

Capital Overabundant

The meeting at Minneapolis, attended by bankers from Minnesota, South and North Dakota and Montana, and convened under C. T. Jaffray, president of the So. Line. The $10,000,000 capital stock was overabundant and as the corporation formed privately it may do all the things any private corporation of this character may do—increase its capital stock and thus its borrowing capacity, and loan money as it sees fit.

According to reports from Minneapolis, North Dakota is considered in a enviable position as compared to many other sections.

The general idea of bankers as given in Minneapolis was that conditions are on the mend generally, and that the chief work of the $10,000,000 corporation will be to aid solvent institutions which may be handicapped temporarily by good but low liquidating paper and to restore confidence by providing ample credit.

PLAN IMMEDIATE AID

Minneapolis, March 3.—Immediate assistance for farmers and banks in the northwest was decided on Saturday at a meeting of officers of the $10,000,000 agricultural credit corporation formed recently by bankers and businessmen to relieve economic distress in some sections.

The corporation officers and some of the directors and executive committee members met in an all day session with 40 bankers, businessmen and agriculturalists of Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana and arrived at specific work to be undertaken immediately.

The plans for first work were outlined by C. T. Jaffray, president of the So. Line, who is chairman of the directors of the new corporation as follows:

To endeavor to furnish capital for reopening of good banks which have been forced to close on account of pressure from depositors.

To furnish additional help by purchase of paper from banks now open, and solvent to strengthen their reserves and put them in position to take care of the usual spring demand.

To assist the farmers in the matter of unpaid taxes.

J. R. Howard, former president of the American Farm Bureau Federation who was elected an active vice president of the new corporation, attended the meeting. He plans to come to Minneapolis and take up his duties at the corporation's headquarters in 10 days.

Improvement in Western North Dakota.

The government must come to realize the importance of "pouring a little of its money on the soil rather than in rivers and harbors and such things," and the economic difficulties will be overcome, said P. C.

NORTH DAKOTA'S WEALTH INCREASED 17.5 PER CENT IN LAST TEN YEARS

U. S. Department of Commerce Shows Per Capita Wealth in 1922 was $3,362 as Compared to $3,309 in Year 1912

Washington, D. C., March 3, 1924.—The Department of Commerce announces, for the State of North Dakota, its preliminary estimate of the value, December 31, 1922, of the principal farm wealth, the total amounting to $2,467,772,000, as compared with $2,100,486,000 in 1912, an increase of 17.5 per cent. Per capita values increased from $3,309 to $3,362, or 11.6 per cent.

All classes of property increased in value from 1912 to 1922, except live stock, which decreased from $125,614,000 to $98,225,000, or 21.8 per cent, and stocks of goods, vehicles other than motor, furniture, and clothing, which decreased from $392,126,000 to $380,065,000, or 3.1 per cent. The estimated value of taxed real property and improvements increased from $1,157,387,000 to $1,325,430,000, or 14.6 per cent; exempt real property (exclusive of Veterans' National Monument and Sully Hill) from $104,001,000 to $300,533,000, or 180.0 per cent; farm implements and machinery from $49,878,000 to $94,095,000, or 88.7 per cent; manufacturing machinery, tools, and implements from $524,000 to $9,470,000, or 80.6 per cent; and railroads and their equipment from $210,183,000 to $205,530,000, or 2.2 per cent. Privately owned transportation and transmission enterprises, other than railroads, increased in value from $17,052,000 to $21,387,000, or 25.7 per cent. No comparison is possible for the value of motor vehicles, which was estimated in 1922 at $36,036,000, because no separate estimate was made in 1912.

In making these estimates the Department followed in general the methods employed in making the estimates for 1912, though it is believed that in some respects, the work in 1922 has been more thorough. It should be borne in mind that the increases in money value are to a large extent due to the rise in prices which have taken place in recent years, and so far as that is the case they do not represent corresponding increases in the quantity of wealth," says a department statement.

The estimated values of gold and silver coin and bullion, the vessels of the Navy, and privately owned waterworks will appear only in totals for the United States.

AVERS FRANCE DOES NOT ASK GERMANS' RUIN

Premier Poincare, in Answer to MacDonald, Disclaims Militarist Spirit

FEARS ARE SET OUT

English Premier Gives to Poincare Englishmen's Fears of Her Action

London, March 3.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald's second letter to M. Poincare, published today, set forth some of the apprehensions regarding France's policy held by numerous Englishmen and these fears, the French Premier in his reply, endeavored to allay. Premier MacDonald's letter says that the people of England "regard with anxiety what appears to be the determination of France to ruin Germany and dominate the continent without consideration of our reasonable interests and future consequences to a European settlement; that they feel apprehensive of the large material and aerial establishments maintained by France."

MacDonald expressed hope that the report of the expert committee on reparations will draw France and England together.

"If cooperation can be reached," he says, "it will be possible for us to approach the United States not as debtors disputing with one another but as a united Europe anxious by mutual service and arrangement to cure the ills from which our people are now suffering."

Premier Poincare characterizes as "mistaken those Englishmen who believe that France dreams of the political or economic annihilation of Germany."

Disclaiming Militarism

Disclaiming a spirit of militarism on the part of France he asks: "Are there really Englishmen who suppose that France would be capable of making fratricidal preparations against their country? Our military and aerial establishments are exclusively designed to defend us against attempted German revenge."

It is "infinitely to be desired," he agrees, that the questions of interallied debt and reparations should be settled at the same time.

WILLIAMS GRAND JURY SUMMONED

Williston, N. D., March 3.—A county grand jury, declared to be the first ever called in Williams county, and one of the few ever convened in North Dakota, was summoned to meet here March 11, in an order signed today by District Judge John C. Lowe of Minot, who is presiding at the present term of district court here.

Coincident with the call for a grand jury which, it is announced, will investigate various complaints of alleged law violations in Williams county, Judge Lowe also signed an order calling a special term of district court to convene on the same day.

U. S. NEUTRAL IN HONDURAS

This Enjoined Upon Naval Commanders There

Washington, March 3.—Strictest neutrality as between the rival revolutionary movements in Honduras has been enjoined upon American naval commanders in Honduran waters.

They have been directed to confine themselves strictly to the protection of American lives and interest and not to permit their operation to assume the appearance of American intervention.

Forces of the defunct government were seriously defeated yesterday by the revolutionary column commanded by General Ferrera. The fight occurred at the town of Tamara, 15 miles west of Tegucigalpa, the Honduran capital.

Presumably an attack by Ferrera upon the capital is imminent. The wife of the defunct president Dr. Gutierrez has left the city for the seaport of Amapala.

NEW ROCKFORD BANKERS FREED

Nw Rockford, N. D., Mar. 3.—Charges of embezzlement were dismissed against Charles MacLachlan, president, John F. Goss, and K. E. Van Vleet, vice-president and A. O. Quisenberry, cashier of the Farmers and Merchants bank by Judge Collins after a preliminary hearing here last Friday. The bank closed Aug. 7, 1923.

The preliminary hearing of Charles MacLachlan, John F. Goss and K. E. Van Vleet, charged with making false statements to the bank examiner, was concluded last Saturday and the charges were dismissed. The defendants were represented by William Langer.

NEW FIGHT ON LA FOLLETTE'S NAME IS MADE

Application Prepared to Ask Supreme Court to Review Lembke's Order

BROUGHT FOR STATE

Will Seek to Invoke the Superintending Powers of the State High Court

An action was to be filed in the supreme court this afternoon asking it to order up for review the peremptory writ of mandamus issued by District Judge F. T. Lembke in Mandamus Saturday in which Judge Lembke directed Secretary of State Thomas Hall to place the name of Robert M. LaFollette on the presidential primary ballot of March 18.

Announcement of intention to bring the action was made by W. H. Stutsman, attorney for Senator Hiram Johnson, at noon, following a series of conferences between interested parties during the morning.

The action will be brought in the name of the state. Attorney-General George Shafer having given consent that this course be taken, in order that a supreme court review of the law applying to the filing of candidates in the presidential primary might be had.

The application made to the supreme court late Saturday in which Hiram Johnson, through attorneys Stutsman and S. L. Nichols asked for an original injunction preventing LaFollette's name from going on the ballot, was temporarily withdrawn from the supreme court, pending the filing of a new action, Mr. Stutsman said.

Secretary of State Hall advised Attorney-General Shafer by letter he was at liberty to take such action as he saw fit for his office.

The application being prepared by Mr. Stutsman and William Langer will seek to invoke a writ of certiorari and the superintending powers of the supreme court over district judges, and will allege that Judge Lembke's peremptory order was without foundation in law and without due notice to opposing parties to appear. The application presented Saturday to the supreme court by Johnson's attorneys set out that Johnson's interests would be adversely affected by LaFollette's name remaining on the ballot, saying it would split the "progressive vote."

H. N. Tucker, Hiram Johnson's campaign manager, remained here directing attorneys in the efforts to keep LaFollette's name from the ballot.

HEARINGS ON SOLDIER PAY BILLS BEGUN

New Proposals Made Emphasizing Feature of Paid-Up Insurance

Washington, March 3.—The house ways and means committee began hearings today on soldier bonus legislation.

The committee study will be based on the McKenzie bill (similar to the measure voted by President Harding and several proposals to make the principal form of the bonus a paid-up life insurance policy.)

The McKenzie bill provides four options; adjusted compensation based on the number of days served by veterans; vocational training aid; farm and home aid; or adjusted payment certificates involving the insurance company.

Rep. Baccarat, Republican, New Jersey, announced a plan yesterday to substitute paid-up life insurance policies maturing at 62 and limited to enlisted men. Reps. Andrews, Massachusetts, and Fish, New York, also have introduced bills making insurance the chief feature of the bonus. Mr. Andrews also would exclude all officers from benefits of the bonus while Mr. Fish would limit benefits to men below the grade of captain in the army and marine corps and lieutenant in the navy as is provided in the McKenzie bill.

THIRD MEMBER OF FAMILY DIES IN SECOND ACCIDENT WITH SAME AUTO; AUTO PLUNGES OVER BRIDGE

Almost two years to the day from the time when the same light automobile was responsible for the death of Leonard Weller and a young son in a crash near their farm six miles east of Hebron the machine proved the agency of fate to dim the life of a third member of the family, Chris Weller, 24, another son.

Weller left Hebron about 7:30 o'clock last night and reached a point a mile and a half east of the city when the machine leaped over the end of a bridge and turned turtle into a creek bed. Weller was pinned beneath the car.

Passing motorists who saw the car disappear suddenly attempted to use the machine from him but were unable to do so. They heard him struggling. They raced to Hebron for additional help but by the time they returned Weller was dead.

It was the same machine by Leonard Weller, father of last night's victim, which he was driving two years ago when it skidded from the road, rolled down an embankment and killed him and a son. A coroner's jury today returned a verdict of accidental death in last night's accident.

BEGIN PROBE OF BLAST IN JERSEY PLANT

18 Dead, Two Missing, 15 in Hospitals After Explosion

Nixon, N. J., Mar. 3.—An inquiry into the cause of Saturday's explosion and fire here which killed 18 persons and destroyed 40 buildings begins today. Fifteen persons are still in hospitals and two are missing.

Among those requested to appear are Lewis Nixon, president of the Nixon Nitration Works, and H. Norris Shreve, president of the Amicite Company.

Major A. S. Casand, in command of the Raritan Arsenal, said yesterday that he believed the explosion was due to conditions in the Amicite plant rather than to any possible failure to separate TNT at the arsenal from the ammonium nitrate, which was eventually sent into tanks to the fertilizer factory of the Amicite company.

Until the rains stop, which may take a number of days, no thorough search for other victims will be made. Those in charge of the works fear that within the debris are acids which will explode in contact with water or by impact.

URGES SURVEY OF ALL POSTAL PAY PROPOSALS

Postmaster-General Suggests Appointment of Special Committee

Washington, Mar. 3.—Submission to some general body such as a congressional committee of all proposals involving increases in salary and changes in employment involving pay increases for postal workers was recommended by Postmaster-General New to Chairman Grist of the post-office committee of the house in a letter made public today.

Mr. New pointed out that there are more than 60 postal bills now pending in Congress, and it was probable a readjustment for the whole service along lines provided in the bill would involve an increase annually of $150,000,000. In addition, he said, there are a number of bills proposing a reduction of postage rates.

Certain classes of employees are not provided for in the bills, Mr. New said, and any readjustment of salaries must necessarily include the whole postal establishment.

PIG CLUB IS SPONSORED BY LEGION BODY

Hazleton, N. D., Mar. 3.—Unexpected interest is being developed in the pig club being sponsored by the local American Legion post. There were many applicants over the number of members the Legion is to carry in the club, and some of these will have to be eliminated by a process of drawing.

The Legion will purchase ten registered bred sows, one for each club member, and on or about September first the division is to be made. The member is to keep the sow and his pick of one of the litter, the balance of the litter being turned over to the Legion. This gives the boy a chance to get started in breeding hogs with one expenditure necessary, to the purchase of a sow. At the end of the contest he has earned the sow and has one fine gilt breeder. In another year his two pigs should make him some good money.

MRS. MASER DIES

Dickinson, N. D., Mar. 3.—Death, suddenly and with little warning, Monday evening called Mrs. Fred Maser, wife of Judge Fred Maser of the county court at the family home on Marguerite Boulevard. At the time she was 64 years of age. She had been a resident of the city for 30 years and was a well-known and respected by all who were privileged to know her.

BURNS TO BE SUMMONED BY OIL PROBERS

Head of Department of Investigation to be Asked About Code's Use

FIND CODE DIFFERED

Washington, March 3.—Cipher experts of the War Department who have been translating code messages found in the McLean private wire file will be called first tomorrow when the senate oil committee resumes its public hearings.

Senator Walsh, chief prosecutor in the inquiry, said translations by the government experts did differ materially from the paraphrases furnished by the committee last week and arrived at by use of an old code of the Department of Justice.

William J. Burns, chief of the Department of Investigation, will be questioned tomorrow as to how employees of E. B. McLean came into possession of this code and whether McLean is on the roll of special agents at a salary of $100 a month.

Burns also will be asked about the "Mary" code message sent to one of McLean's confidential men at Palm Beach in which reference was made to Burns and the McLean investigation.

Mr. Daugherty, the chairman asserted, will be given a fair hearing regardless of what course it takes.

Besides Senator Brookhart, who wheels the committee is composed of Senator Moses, New Hampshire, and Jones, Washington, Republicans, and Ashurst, Arizona Democrat.

CHECK ARTIST IS ARRESTED

Man Who Cashed $100 Check Here Held in West

Joe M. Diaz, alias M. D. Gonzalez, who cashed a worthless check for $100 here about two months ago, may halt his career as a check artist for a few years by serving a sentence in federal prison. He is now under arrest in Spokane.

Diaz, here a couple of months ago, endorsed a check on the Imperial Bank of Canada, Winnipeg, and cashed it at a local store. He posed as a Legion man, and had done so in Fargo. He was here but a few days. Writing to the chief constable at Winnipeg Chief Martinson learned that the man has issued a number of bad checks, and had been arrested shortly after he left here at Spokane. He wrote to Spokane and received back a photograph and other identification marks.

Diaz, Spokane authorities said, was a Spaniard who had been cashing bad checks in various parts of the country. He was arrested in Spokane on a telegraphic warrant from Ogden, but released by a judge because the warrant was not certified. He was re-arrested on a federal warrant, charging impersonation of an officer in Salt Lake City. He also is wanted at El Centro and Pasadena, California, Billings, Mont., and one or two other places, the Spokane authorities wrote.

The warrant issued here charging him with forgery will be served, but he probably will be tried on the federal charge.

Premier Poincare, in Answer to MacDonald, Disclaims Militarist Spirit

FEARS ARE SET OUT

English Premier Gives to Poincare Englishmen's Fears of Her Action

London, March 3.—Premier Ramsay MacDonald's second letter to M. Poincare, published today, set forth some of the apprehensions regarding France's policy held by numerous Englishmen and these fears, the French Premier in his reply endeavored to allay. Premier MacDonald's letter says that the people of England "regard with anxiety what appears to be the determination of France to ruin Germany and dominate the continent without consideration of our reasonable interest and future consequences to a European settlement; that they feel apprehensive of the large material and aerial establishments maintained by France."

MacDonald expressed hope that the report of the expert committee on reparations will draw France and England together.

"If cooperation can be reached," he says, "it will be possible for us to approach the United States not as debtors disputing with one another but as a united Europe anxious by mutual sacrifice and arrangement to cure the ills from which our people are now suffering."

Premier Poincare characterizes as "mistaken these Englishmen who believe that France dreams of the political or economic annihilation of Germany."

Disclaims Militarism
Disclaiming a spirit of militarism on the part of France he asks:

"Are there really Englishmen who suppose that France would be capable of making fratricidal preparations against their country? Our military and aerial establishments are exclusively designed to defend us against attempted German revenge."

It is "infinitely to be desired," he agrees, "that the questions of allied debt and reparations should be settled at the same time."

WILLIAMS GRAND JURY SUMMONED

Williston, N. D., March 3.—A county grand jury, declared to be the first ever called in Williams county, and one of the few ever convened in North Dakota, was summoned to meet here March 11, in an order signed today by District Judge John C. Lowe of Minot, who is presiding at the present term of district court here.

Coincident with the call for a grand jury, which, it is announced, will investigate various complaints of alleged law violations in Williams county, Judge Lowe also signed an order calling a special term of district court to convene on the same day.

The Hanna sweepstakes cup, won at the first state-wide corn show held here in January, will be formally presented to Sargent county, the winner, at Fortman, the county seat, on March 12, Secretary Bradley of the Association of Commerce announced today.

Mr. Hanna was invited to be present. Commissioner of Agriculture Kitcher and Immigration Commissioner Joseph Devine will be present, with representatives of the corn show committee.

A letter from Fortman advises Mr. Bradley that a gala day is planned in Fortman, and the affair is to be advertised extensively throughout the county. Free lunch at noon and a bigger feed in the evening is planned by business men of Fortman.

The cup will remain in possession of Sargent county for one year unless the county wins the sweepstakes next year in the corn show. Then it would remain permanently there.

U. S. NEUTRAL IN HONDURAS
This Enjoined Upon Naval Commanders There

Washington, March 3.—Strictest neutrality as between the rival revolutionary movements in Honduras has been enjoined upon American naval commanders in Honduran waters.

They have been directed to confine themselves strictly to the protection of American lives and interest and not to permit their operation to assume the appearance of American intervention.

Forces of the defunct government were seriously defeated yesterday by the revolutionary column commanded by General Carrera. The fight occurred at the town of Tamara, 15 miles west of Tegucigalpa, the Honduran capital.

Presumably an attack by Ferrea on the capital is imminent. The wife of the defunct president Dr. Gutierrez has left the city for the seaport of Amapala.

NEW FIGHT ON
LA FOLLETTE'S
NAME IS MADE

Application Prepared to Ask Supreme Court to Review Lemcke's Order

BROUGHT FOR STATE

Will Seek to Invoke the Superintending Powers of the State High Court

An action was to be filed in the supreme court this afternoon asking it to order up for review the peremptory writ of mandamus issued by District Judge F. T. Lemcke in Mandamus Saturday in which Judge Lemcke directed Secretary of State Thomas Hall to place the name of Robert M. LaFollette on the presidential primary ballot of March 18.

Announcement of intention to bring the action was made by W. H. Stutsman, attorney for Senator Hiram Johnson, at noon, following a series of conferences between interested parties during the morning.

The action will be brought in the name of the state, Attorney-General George Shafer having given consent that this course be taken, in order that a supreme court review of the law applying to the filing of candidates in the presidential primary might be had.

The application made to the supreme court late Saturday in which Hiram Johnson, through attorneys Stutsman and S. L. Nichols asked for an original injunction preventing LaFollette's name from going on the ballot, was temporarily withdrawn from the supreme court, pending the filing of a new action, Mr. Stutsman said.

Secretary of State Hall advised Attorney-General Shafer by letter he was at liberty to take such action as he saw fit for his office.

The application being prepared by Mr. Stutsman and William Langer will seek to invoke a writ of certiorari and the superintending powers of the supreme court over district judges, and will allege that Judge Lemcke's peremptory order was without foundation in law and without due notice to opposing parties to appear.

The application presented Saturday to the supreme court by Johnson's attorneys set out that Johnson's interests would be adversely affected by LaFollette's name remaining on the ballot, saying it would split the "progressive vote."

H. N. Tucker, Hiram Johnson's campaign manager, remained here directing attorneys in the efforts to keep LaFollette's name from the ballot.

HEARINGS ON SOLDIER PAY
BILLS BEGUN

New Proposals Made Emphasizing Feature of Paid-Up Insurance

Washington, March 3.—The house ways and means committee began hearings today on soldier bonus legislation.

The committee study will be based on the McKenzie bill similar to the measure vetoed by President Harding and several proposals to make the principal form of the bonus a paid-up life insurance policy.

The McKenzie bill provides four options: adjusted compensation based on the number of days served by veterans; vocational training aid; farm and home aid; or adjusted paid-up certificates involving the insurance feature.

Rep. Bacarath, Republican, New Jersey, announced a plan yesterday to substitute paid-up life insurance policies maturing at 62 and limited to enlisted men. Reps. Andrews, Massachusetts, and Fish, New York, also have introduced bills making insurance the chief feature of the bonus. Mr. Andrews also would exclude all officers from benefits of the bonus while Mr. Fish would limit benefits to men below the grade of captain in the army and marine corps and lieutenant in the navy as is provided in the McKenzie bill.

THIRD MEMBER OF FAMILY DIES
IN SECOND ACCIDENT WITH SAME
AUTO; AUTO PLUNGES OVER BRIDGE

Almost two years to the day from the time when the same light automobile was responsible for the death of Leonard Weiler and a young son in a crash near their farm six miles east of Hebron the machine proved the agency of fate to dim the life of a third member of the family, Chris Weiler, 24, another son. Weiler left Hebron about 7:30 o'clock last night and reached a point a mile and a half east of the city when the machine leaped over the end of a bridge and turned turtle into a creek bed. Weiler was pinned beneath the car.

Passing motorists who saw the car disappear suddenly attempted to raise the machine from him but were unable to do so. They heard him struggling. They raced to Hebron for additional help but by the time they returned Weiler was dead.

It was the same machine by Leonard Weiler, father of last night's victim, which he was driving two years ago when it skidded from the road, rolled down an embankment and killed him and son. A coroner's jury today returned a verdict of accidental death in last night's accident.

18 Dead, Two Missing, 15 in Hospitals After Explosion

Nixon, N. J., Mar. 3.—An inquiry into the cause of Saturday's explosion and fire here which killed 18 persons and destroyed 40 buildings began today. Fifteen persons are still in hospitals and two are missing.

Among those requested to appear are Lewis Nixon, president of the Nixon Nitration Works, and H. Norris Shreve, president of the Amnitte Company.

Major A. S. Casad, in command of the Bureau Arsenal, said yesterday that he believed the explosion was due to conditions in the Amnitte plant rather than to any possible failure to separate TNT at the arsenal from the ammonium nitrate which was eventually sent into tanks to the fertilizer factory of the Amnitte company.

Under the ruins cool, which may take a number of days, no thorough search for other victims will be made. Those in charge of the works fear that within the debris are acids which will explode in contact with water or by impact.

Postmaster-General Suggests Appointment of Special Committee

Washington, Mar. 3.—Submission to some general body such as a congressional committee all proposals involving increases in salary and changes in employment involving pay increases for postal workers was recommended by Postmaster-General New Chairman Crist of the post-office committee of the house in a letter made public today.

Mr. New pointed out that there are more than 50 postal bills now pending in Congress and it was probable a readjustment for the whole service along lines provided in the bills would involve an increase annually of $150,000,000. In addition, he said, there are a number of bills proposing a reduction of postage rates.

Certain classes of employees are not provided for in the bills, Mr. New said, and any readjustment of salaries must necessarily include the whole postal establishment.

PIG CLUB IS SPONSORED BY LEGION BODY

Hazleton, N. D., Mar. 3.—Unexpected interest is being developed in the pig club being sponsored by the local American Legion post. There were many applicants over the number of members the Legion is to carry in the club, and some of these will have to be eliminated by a process of drawing.

The Legion will purchase ten registered bred sows, one for each club member, and on or about September first the division is to be made. The member is to keep the sow and his pick of one of the litter, the balance of the litter being turned over to the Legion. This gives the boy a chance to get started in purebred hogs without the expenditure necessary to the purchase of a sow. At the end of the contest he has earned the sow and has one fine gilt besides. In another year his two pigs should make him some good money.

MRS. MASER DIES
Dickinson, N. D., Mar. 3.—Death, suddenly and with little warning, Monday evening called Mrs. Fred Maser, wife of Judge Fred Maser of the county court, at the family home on Marguerite Boulevard. DAUGHERTY TO FIGHT

Attorney-General Asks That Personal Counsel be Permitted to Appear

Miami, Fla., March 3.—Attorney-General Daugherty will send a message to President Coolidge late this afternoon "which may be considered important," he said at the Nautilus hotel here today. He refused to divulge the nature of the communication.

Washington, March 3.—(By the A. P.)—Members of the Daugherty investigation committee devoted their time today to working out a plan of procedure for the inquiry into the attorney-general's administration. The investigation, which was authorized Saturday by the Senate after two days of intensely bitter discussion, is expected to get under way without delay and in the opinion of some will vie with the oil inquiry in its ramifications.

The members had before them today the request of Attorney-General Daugherty's personal counsel, Paul Howland of Cleveland and former Senator George E. Chamberlain of Oregon for the right to examine the witnesses, have process served for witness and documents and present independent evidence and for ample notice of charges to be met.

Senator Brookhart of Iowa, the Republican insurgent, who was elected chairman of the committee by the Senate feels that the investigation should not be held as though it were a "trial" but along the lines to bring out all facts, taking evidence and running down charges as they develop. He and Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, author of the investigation resolution, already have a large amount of information and correspondence with which to start the investigation.

Mr. Daugherty, the chairman asserts, will be given "a fair" hearing regardless of what course it takes. Besides Senator Brookhart and Wheeler the committee is composed of Senator Moses, New Hampshire, and Jones, Washington, Republicans, and Ashurst Arizona Democrat.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

ADVENTURE LIES OUT YONDER

A movie craze is sweeping the Far North. Picture theaters in Alaska are doing record-breaking business. Audiences up there are not keen for snow country pictures showing hardships and struggles with nature. They get too much of that in daily life. The Alaskans prefer warm tropical scenes and ballroom and other spectacles portraying comfort and ease.

Here in civilization, life is "soft." We have, as every comfort, many services and conveniences that would be classed as luxuries in the Far North. The natural reaction is that we flock to pictures portraying hardships of the cold north or the burning desert.

In a life of hardships, people yearn for comforts. In a life of comforts, they are entranced by hardships. On a down-down, few would actually trade places with the other kind of life.

The lure of the distant is as strong as when the early explorers sailed daringly into unknown seas. Romance and adventure are scarce, so we associate them with the places far away. No matter how attractive things may be, most folks imagine better things lie on the other side of the hill.

Climbing to the top of the mountain, they look down into valley much the same as the one they've just left. On, hen, across other mountains.

The same spirit makes the radio bug more interested in long distance reception than in actual radio concerts.

Man's restlessness and dissatisfaction, his craving to venture into the unknown—these are the forces that have brought all progress, that have evolved the cave-dwelling brute into the comparatively high type of mentality of modern times.

Contentment breeds stagnation. Dissatisfaction generates progress. Curiosity leads to new discoveries.

Accordingly, the fact that so many Americans are dissatisfied is a certain indication that rapid progress lies ahead.

MILLIONAIRE

The wealthiest man in South America, Senor Garcia Alvarez, was invited to a banquet in London, England. He went.

On his steamer he carried his own livestock and poultry, or he could be sure of fresh milk and meat and eggs. He returned to Buenos Ayres the next morning after the banquet. His trip, for the banquet event, cost him $50,000.

A thousand and one different "morals" can be drawn from this. Take your pick.

If your liver is functioning harmoniously, you merely envy Senor Alvarez and wish you could do the same. Nero, Caligula and Cleopatra were pikers.

HIRED TO COMMIT CRIMES

Confessing in court, a New York gangster nonchalantly tells how he hired himself out at $50 a week to set fire to emements. He says he got a bonus of $40 for one job—ring a building in which 250 people slept.

The really remarkable thing about a case like this, however, is its rarity. That is true of all major criminal operations. The criminal is the exception, and that's why he gets publicity. A discouraged public, for instance, gives so much thought to the 12,000 Americans who commit murder in a year that it forgets the more than 108 millions who don't.

METHANOL

"Wood alcohol is queer stuff. A good drink of wood alcohol will kill two men out of five, say; two more will go tone-blind; and the fifth won't be any worse off than if he'd been drunk on bad whisky." So writes Dr. Ernest M. Poate.

Wood alcohol, like all deadly poisons, is mysterious. It's characteristic of some poisons that certain few people are immunized by nature. The reader will observe that Dr. Poate says the average drinker of wood alcohol has only one chance in five of not being blinded or killed outright.

SAVING OF COAL

The new electricity generator at Niagara Falls—70,000 horsepower—does work that otherwise would require 700,000 tons of coal a year.

Multiply this by 10 and you have the coal saved by all power plants at Niagara.

The force of falling water, nick-named "white coal," is destined to play a tremendously important role in America's future. There's a strong tendency to allow private interests to get possession of water power. This tendency is dangerous and foolish.

WEATHER

All of us are eternally growing about the weather. But we don't like it, we can move. Nature is a magnificent otel-keeper, ready to provide any kind of accommodations wanted.

Professor Barnes of McGill University in Montreal reports that in Greenland the snow is nearly two miles deep in places.

This is exceptionally interesting, scientifically. But most of us are interested mainly because we're not living there and have to shovel.

"Have you any engagement in sight?" Coolidge asked empsy. Wonder if he wants to hire Jack?

With only a few more weeks to play, the score shows the al dealers have won this winter.

Hudson, Maxim says the Volstead Act prohibits tea and coffee. How nice to learn it prohibits something.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

STRIKING A BLOW FOR OUR MERCHANT MARINE

At last the shipping board has taken an action which is essential to the success of the American merchant marine, which in turn is essential to the promotion of our foreign trade and to our naval defense.

The board has asked the interstate commerce commission to enforce that section of the merchant marine act of 1920 which provides that American railroads shall make through exports rates in conjunction with the American steamship lines and shall refuse to make such rates with foreign steamship companies.

Under the law, this preferential treatment for American ships is mandatory except when sufficient American vessels are not available. The shipping board now feels that American ships are available in sufficient numbers to care for the export needs of American railroads. Accordingly, the law is being revoked.

We may expect to hear vigorous objection that such preferential treatment is unfair to foreign shipping interests—meaning the shipping interests of Great Britain, who dominates the sea and firmly intends to continue to dominate it. In answer, it may be pointed out pleasantly that Great Britain has never hesitated to give any sort of preferential treatment necessary for the growth and protection of her merchant marine.

Our merchant marine is an essential industry, and it is our own business if we choose to give preferential treatment, just as it is our own business if we choose to give preferential treatment to American manufacturers of steel or textiles, by means of a tariff wall or any other aid. It is our own business, just as it is Britain's own business if she chooses to nourish and cherish her merchant marine in every practicable way; and that is exactly what Great Britain is doing.

British insurance companies make harsh discriminations against American vessels. British shipowners, aided by the British government, contract with shippers at certain ports to carry their entire products, and refuse to permit the shippers to put any part of their products in American vessels. A British governmental subsidy is now permitting the construction of a fleet of large motor ships at Belfast.

The plain fact is that Britain does everything necessary to help her own ships, and when she says she isn't she is just about as plausible as Doherty is when he says, "I tell you there is no oil scandal."

Germany was once in the situation in which America now finds herself. Germany wanted to build up a merchant marine. Accordingly she established a system of preferential railroad rates. And that system helped immensely to establish the German merchant marine.

One other objection remains. Some Americans may ask (and in asking it they are unconsciously repeating British propaganda), "What good is a merchant marine?"

The answer is threefold. First, a merchant marine will give America a large part of the world's carrying business. Britain has that business now. It is her leading business. It has done her good. It will do us good to have a large carrying business, just as it has done good to build up our steel industry. It will mean that we have added one more industry to the list of America's economic assets.

Second, a merchant marine will promote our foreign trade. Britain's export business is stoutly based on this. But Germany's merchant marine, built up her foreign trade, and Britain has officially admitted this fact.

Third, a merchant marine is necessary for our naval defense. The Navy is a complicated machine which few citizens understand.

Anybody who has gone on one voyage on a battleship knows that there is not a doubt in the world that supply ships, colliers, aircraft carriers, and other auxiliary ships are vitally necessary. Without them, our battleships could do nothing in time of war except patrol our coasts. And the only practicable way to get these auxiliary ships is to draw them from our merchant marine in time of war. And if we have no merchant marine—then what?

We need our Navy! We need a merchant marine to aid that Navy. We need a merchant marine because we need a carrying business. We need a merchant marine to promote our foreign trade.

And to get that merchant marine, we should give our ships preferential treatment on American railroads. We have a right to do it, and we should not let any threats of British retaliation frighten us out of exercising that right.

The interstate commerce commission should speedily grant the shipping board's request.—Chicago Journal of Commerce.

Fight Disease To Save Aborigines

Papeete, Tahiti, March 3.—A determined effort is being made by the authorities to clean up Papeete and to stamp out certain diseases which long have been prevalent in Tahiti.

For many years Papeete, on account of its insular state, has been the breeding ground of maladies which have spread to all the islands of the colony. The death-rate both in the town and the outlying islands from this cause has been very great. This is especially the case among the native population, whose members have little resistance to European or, in fact, any, diseases.

This New Boy Looks Like Trouble

It has been predicted freely by well informed residents that if the old conditions were allowed to continue a few more years would see the extinction of the Tahitian race, a fate which already has overtaken the aboriginal inhabitants of the Marquesas archipelago.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Now then," said the Beanstalk Mouse to Nancy and Nick when he had carried them safely out of the dark den, "we are in the garden's cellar where it is nice and dry. And now I shall show you the funny round dish the gardener has been kind enough to set out for me."

"What is it like?" asked Nancy. "It's round and has holes in the sides, also some very shiny whirlygigs with bits of cheese hung on them, all ready for me to dine on. I do think the gardener is a grand man to be so kind! But come on, I'll show it to you. It's right over here under the steps. And you must be my guests and have pot-luck with me. There is plenty of cheese for all."

The Twins were not so anxious to share Mister Mouse's meal as they were to see the wonderful dish he spoke of. What kind of a dish could it be that had holes and whirlygigs in it? But Nick said he was sure they would both be much obliged to stay and everything, and after that all three of them went over to the dark place under the stairs.

"There!" declared the Beanstalk Mouse with a wave of his long tail. "There is the dish right there in the corner. And do you smell the cheese? Really it smells so delicious it almost makes me want to sneeze."

"Why!" gasped Nancy the minute she set eyes on it. "That's a mouse-trap, Mister Mouse!"

"A what?" shrieked the mouse, backing away in a hurry. "What did you say?"

"A mouse-trap," repeated Nick. "Those whirlygigs are springs, and if you touched any of them, you'd be caught."

"Are you sure?" exclaimed the mouse doubtfully.

"I'll show you," said Nick. "Only the trap is so big and I'm so little, I'm not quite sure I can work it. I wonder Nick had his doubts, my dears, for the Beanstalk Mouse was as big as a pony and the mouse-trap was as large as a—oh, about as large as a garage."

Nick picked up a big piece of wood and reached into one of the holes on the side of the trap.

Scarcely had the stick touched the cheese, when bang! The trap went off like a cannon, turning completely over and knocking the Twins off their feet.

"Dear, dear! Are you hurt?" squeaked the Beanstalk Mouse rushing up. But Nancy and Nick jumped right up, as spry as crickets.

"We're all right, Mister Mouse," they laughed. "Don't worry."

"Oh, I'm so much obliged!" panted the mouse gratefully. "Just think what would have happened if it had been me instead!"

"You saved our lives, and we are glad to do the same for you," said Nancy. "But remember, you mustn't get too greedy or you may get into trouble yet."

"What's all this I hear down here?" said a great voice just then, and the door to the cellar opened and the gardener looked in. "I thought I heard nice squeaking. I'll just have a look at that trap."

But when he got there not a thing was to be seen but the overturned trap. Nancy and Nick had skipped off.

And as for the Beanstalk Mouse, he had scurried down a hole, long tail and all.

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN

Ruth Ellington met me in her little private office, Syd, and I want to tell you that woman is one of the cleverest I have ever seen—and as hard as nails.

She told me Leslie was convinced that little Jack was your child, and wanted to know if I had told this to Leslie. She asked it in such a manner that I knew the truth. Confession, I told her the whole thing and explained that I had never as far as I knew even intimated you were the father of little Jack.

I must have been a pretty abject person, for her only comment after listening to me for about 15 minutes was, "Men sometimes must say the piper, thank God."

Before she began to lay plans to keep Leslie from being unhappy, she informed me she would not stir a finger if it were not for my wife. "You have been particularly nasty to me, Jack. You have arrogated to yourself the right to do anything you please and make no explanations to Leslie, and you insisted that she not should tell you her reasons for doing things but should abide by your decision in the matter."

"You have insulted me by telling me you thought I had practically stolen the money that you found me putting in Leslie's safe, and you have added injury to insult by taking that money away from Leslie and keeping it, thus overturning some very important plans of mine for its disposal."

"At that," she continued, "I think perhaps you are a bigger fool than you are a villain. Most men are. You have tried to carry things with a very high hand, Jack, but you found you couldn't do it. Now that you are in a tight place you come, as men always do, to a woman to be helped out of it."

"Why is it that when anything terrible happens all men say, 'Look for the woman, when down in every man's heart he knows he has never had anything good come into his life that some woman has not brought it to him.'"

"Thank God the day is coming, in fact it is nearly here, when you will really have to acknowledge this. Love and marriage will be a fifty-fifty proposition. A woman will not only belong to the man she loves but a man will belong to her and each one will belong to the other only as long as love lasts."

"I shall have to wait until after I have talked with Leslie before I can advise you freely, Jack, but I want to understand that my whole sympathy is with her first. Then, with Paula Perier. You don't enter into it at all. I would sacrifice you as quickly as I would tear this paper into strips (she suited the action to the words). If I can keep Leslie happy and make Paula Perier understand whatever is best."

While she was giving me this lecture, Syd, I kept growing smaller and smaller and she seemed to get an idea of this for she stopped abruptly, and then began:

"I don't think anything will matter much to Leslie if she does not have to give up the boy."

"What do you mean?" I asked stupidly.

XXXII (Continued)
"Lord, Lee, I wish you could have been behind a screen at that luncheon. Thirteen old tombstones in eathers and net collars—seven or eight of 'em, anyhow—colonial profiles and lorgnettes, and 'all looking as if they had been hit in the stomach. I at one end of the table looking like the Witch of Endor, Mary at the other looking like one of our granddaughters and trying to be animated and intimate. I forgot my own tragedy and haw-hawed three times. She looked almost apologetic when she called us by our first names, especially when she used the diminutive. Polly Vane, who's got a head like a billiard ball and has to wear a wig for decency's sake, drew herself up twice and then relaxed with a sickly grin. . . . All the same I don't think Mary felt any more comfortable or liked it much better than the rest of us. Too much like reading your own epitaph on a tombstone. I thought I saw her squirm."

"How did they take it individually?" Clavering hoped she was finally diverted. "Were they jealous and resentful?"

"Some. Elinor Goodrich had always been too besotted fond of her to mind. Others, who had been merely admirers and liked her, were—well, it's too much to say they were enchanted to see Mary looking not a day over thirty, but they were able to endure it. Isabel Lawrence thought it downright immoral, and Polly Vane looked as if she had fallen into a stinking mass and only refrained from holding her nose out of consideration for her hostess. I think she feels that Mary's return is an insult to New York. Lily Tracy was painfully excited. No doubt she'll begin collecting for the Vienna poor at once and finding it necessary to go over and distribute the funds in person. Mary lost no time getting in her fine work for Vienna relief."

"But they'll all stand by her?"

"Oh, yes, she's Mary Ogden. We'd be as likely to desert New York itself because we didn't like the mayor. And she's not used to the young women she'll have to look out for. My God! How they'll hate her. As for Anne Goodrich and Marian Lawrence—Clavering sprang to his feet. "Who's that? Jim?"

A man was running up the stairs. "Janet," said Mrs. Ogden grimly. "She's out."

XXXIII

"Don't be a flat tyre. I don't want to be alone anywhere. I'd go out of my senses. Anything might happen to her, and I shan't call in the police until the last minute. Filthy scandal!"

"Police? Certainly not. And as Janet is cold sober, be sure she'll come to no harm."

A few moments later they were in the lift ascending to Clavering's rooms. "Hullo!" he said, as he opened the door of his little hall, "and as they entered the living room, 'what the devil—' Cigarette smoke hung in the air."

There was a wild shriek from a corner of the room, a slim girl leaped across the intervening space like a panther, and flung herself upon Ogden, beating his chest with her fists. "You damned old plumbler, you old dumb-duck!" shrieked his little daughter. "What did you come here and spoil everything for? He'd have had to marry me tomorrow if you'd minded your own business. I'll claw your eyes out. But her hands were imprisoned, and she turned and spat at the petrified Clavering. "I hate you! I hate you! But I'm going to marry you all the same. One way or another I'll get you. I meant to wait awhile; for I hadn't had fun enough yet, and I'd have precious little with you, you old flat tire. But when I heard that old Zattiany woman'd got hold of you—and then looked up and not able to do a thing—I thought I'd go mad. I dropped my diamond bracelet out of the window and one of the servants let me out—I won't tell which. You've been seen coming out of her house at all hours, but she's a thousand years old and nobody cares what she does, but I intended to rouse this whole house and I'd have been too compromised. You'd have had to marry me. You'd have had to tie up so tight you'd have toddled straight down to the City Hall."

Clavering stared at her, wondering how women felt when they were going to have hysterics. What a night! And this girl's resemblance to her grandmother was uncanny. He could see the Jane Ogden in the portrait in just such a tantrum. And he had thought he knew both of them. He wanted to burst into wild laughter, but the girl was tragic in spite of her silly plot and he merely continued to regard her stonily.

Mrs. Minnie Nodder, mother of Mrs. Holta, and Mrs. Irene Mitchell, a sister, arrived from Seattle, Wash. for the funeral.

AT THE MOVIES

THE ELTINGE What in many respects is the most thrilling motion picture ever woven around life in the North woods is "Unseeing Eyes" made from Arthur Stringer's story, which will be shown at the Eltinge theatre, today and Tuesday.

Three quarters of the film were made in the open and the company was on location around Banff and Lake Louise for at least six weeks. Scenes were also "shot" in and near Quebec and Montreal. Among the spectacular scenes which were filmed near Banff is the burning of a Canadian settlement. A thrilling aeroplane dash over the ice-covered terrain and a magnificent reproduction of a mid-winter carnival are said to be other highlights in the making of "Unseeing Eyes."

Lionel Barrymore and Seena Owen, who appeared with Barrymore in "The Face in the Fog," are featured in "Unseeing Eyes."

AT THE CAPITOL Commencing tonight and continuing for 3 days the Capitol Theatre will offer a picturization of R. W. Chambers' widely read novel, "The Common Law." This is a story of an artist's model and life in general in the art studios of modern times and it vividly portrays many of the humiliating indignities to which the models are compelled to submit. There is probably no star in all the realm of the cinema who is better equipped and more suited to the leading role than is lovely Corinne Griffith who portrays the difficult part with feeling, delicacy and finesse.

Conway Tearle ably enacts the part of the artist, and the highly dramatic role of Querida is entrusted to Elliott Dexter.

CANNED GOODS GROWTH TOLD TO KIWANIS

H. J. Duemeland Outlines Importance of Industry at Meeting Today

The growth of the canning industry was unfolded before the Kiwanis club at the regular weekly luncheon today by H. J. Duemeland, president of the North Dakota Wholesale Grocers Association and the Bismarck Grocery Company, as a part of the observance of National Canned Foods Week.

Mr. Duemeland explained the method in which the canning industry originated. At the time of the Napoleonic wars it was found necessary to have better methods of carrying foods for armies. Prizes were offered, and a Frenchman evolved the method of heating food and hermetically sealing it. From that time on the canned goods industry has grown, he said, but the greatest growth has been since 1904. He showed the part the industry played during the war when it was necessary to have great supplies of food that could be moved quickly.

Before Mr. Duemeland's talk, Chairman "King" Cole gave way to Dr. Armon and other leaders of the bachelors' block who objected to the prize offered by John Graham's bank to babies born on the 26th of February. Judge Sveinbjorn Johnson of the protest had been disallowed and a list of names to whom prizes should be given, which list was not well lengthy but filled with names well-nigh unpronounceable.

The "automobile race" of different teams for the attendance prize got under way, with only three members of the entire club absent. Joe Breslow won the attendance prize donated by Dr. Brandt.

Visitors included W. G. Ashworth, Jamestown.

Pittsburgh Leads In Improving Schools

Woodland, Pa., Mar. 3.—Believing that the education of children in districts remote from centres of population with their modern advantages, can best be carried on by consolidating district schools into one well organized institution, officers of the Harbison-Walker Refractories Company of Pittsburgh have made a novel proposition to the local board of education.

There are five old wooden school buildings in the community, all of them carried on under the generally accepted plan that children must be educated, but that environment has no influence upon them. Here the children go from day to day, the drab and unattractive surroundings of the old system ever present. They leave school as soon as possible, some of them to get away from the monotony, and are soon at work, with only a smattering of what they ought to know, even though they are never to take a commanding place in the community.

To get away from this, Hamilton Stuart, vice president of the refractories company, has proposed to the school board that it buy all the old school houses. In their place he would have erected, at some central point, a modern, well equipped building to house all of the children. He has the advantage of a large and better force of teachers, and a part in the many activities which have come to mark the public school system in more important communities.

Social and Personal

Community Council Interesting Meeting

The Women's Community Council held an interesting meeting in the rest room of the Masonic Temple, Saturday afternoon. A fair representation of the organizations, who are members of the council, were present. Mrs. R. S. Towne, president of the council, presided and reports were given from each of the committees. The committee on milk supply reported that tests had been made from milk of each dairy in the city and showed them to be practically the same in fat content and visible solids; the only marked difference being in the bacteria count. The committee has the co-operation of W. Knight, Sanitary Engineer of the State Board of Health of Bismarck, in keeping the milk supply of the city, the very best possible.

The report of the Rest Room Committee showed that very little had been donated to the rest room supplies. An appeal is made to the women of the city who may have toys, books, magazines, underwear, scissors or other things that might be used in helping to entertain the children left here in care of the matron, or kindly send them to the rest room or call Mrs. C. W. Smith, 307M, and he will call for the articles. Any thing will be acceptable as there is very little material on hand for this use.

A report from the legislative committee was made to the effect that an organized effort was being made to get the girls who are on the streets engaged in selling papers off the streets and in their homes as the influence of the street is not such that the girls should be permitted to be there.

Mrs. Lund, head of the Children's Bureau of this state, gave a most interesting talk upon the nature of her work. She stated that though the Bureau was now past six months existence it was but a mere infant as yet. She further stated that she had received splendid co-operation from the women and women's organizations of the state, in their efforts to give the children of the state a fair chance. Homes are wanted or children at all times, often for only a short time and in many instances, board will be paid for these children.

Mrs. Johnson, matron of the rest room reported that the room had been splendidly patronized the past month.

AT THE MOVIES

THE ELTINGE
What in many respects is the most thrilling motion picture ever woven around life in the North woods is "Unseeing Eyes," made from Arthur Stringer's story, which will be shown at the Eltinge theatre, today and Tuesday.

Three quarters of the film were made in the open and the company was on location around Banff and Lake Louise for at least six weeks. Scenes were also "shot" in and near Quebec and Montreal. Among the spectacular scenes which were filmed near Banff is the burning of a Canadian settlement. A thrilling aeroplane dash over the ice-covered terrain and a magnificent reproduction of a mid-winter carnival are said to be other highspots in the making of "Unseeing Eyes."

AT THE CAPITOL
Commencing tonight and continuing for 3 days the Capitol Theatre will offer a picturization of R. W. Chambers' widely read novel, "The Common Law." This is a story of an artist's model and life in general in the art studios of modern times and it vividly portrays many of the humiliating indignities to which the models are compelled to submit. There is probably no star in all the realm of the cinema who is better equipped and more suited to the leading role than is lovely Corinne Griffith who portrays the difficult part with feeling, delicacy and finesse. Conway Tearle ably enacts the part of the artist, and the highly dramatic role of Querida is entrusted to Elliott Dexter.

CANNED GOODS GROWTH TOLD TO KIWANIANS

H. J. Duemeland Outlines Importance of Industry at Meeting Today

The growth of the canning industry was unfolded before the Kiwanis club at the regular weekly luncheon today by H. J. Duemeland, president of the North Dakota Wholesale Grocers Association and the Bismarck Grocery Company, as a part of the observance of National Canned Goods Week.

Mr. Duemeland explained the method in which the canning industry originated. At the time of the Napoleonic wars it was found necessary to have better methods of carrying foods for armies. Prizes were offered, and a Frenchman evolved the method of heating food and hermetically sealing it. From that time on the canning goods industry has grown, he said, but the greatest growth has been since 1904. He showed the part the industry played during the war when it was necessary to have great supplies of food that could be moved quickly.

Before Mr. Duemeland's talk, Chairman "King" Cole gave way to Dr. Arnsen and other leaders of the bachelors' block who objected to the prize offered by John Graham's bank to babies born on the 29th of February. Judge Sveinbjorn Johnson after the protest had been disallowed read a list of names to whom prizes should be given, which list was not only lengthy but filled with names well-nigh unpronounceable.

The "automobile race" of different teams for the attendance prize got under way, with only three members of the entire club absent. Joe Breslow won the attendance prize donated by Dr. Brandt.

Pittsburgh Leads In Improving Schools

Woodland, Pa., Mar. 2.—Believing that the education of children in districts remote from centres of population with their modern advantages, can best be carried on by consolidating district schools into one well organized institution, officers of the Harrison-Walker Refractories Company of Pittsburgh have made a novel proposition to the local board of education.

There are five old wooden school buildings in the community, all of them carried on under the generally accepted plan that children must be

POWER GIVEN GOVERNOR TO SPEED VOTING

This Is Interpretation of Supreme Court in Election Law Case

The Governor has power to "accelerate" the time of holding an election on referred measures in which the time for the holding of the election is fixed by the petitioners. This constitutional interpretation was settled by the court in upholding the Governor's call for a special election on March 18 at which time the so-called "tax" election measures are to be held on by the people.

The court further held that the Governor's call for a special election on March 18 at which time the so-called "tax" election measures are to be held on by the people.

"Conditions are improving in western North Dakota," he said. "We had a good revenue from our farm products last year and the effects now are being felt. The large farms are being cut up. Diversification is in progress, and we are getting in better shape all the time. The Agricultural Credit corporation and the Cattle and Horse Raisers' association, if passed by congress, should have very beneficial effects throughout the entire territory. For many years the government has been pouring money into rivers and harbors and some of this money now should be poured on the soil. There may be more difficulty to see the immediate results, but the benefits would be far-reaching and sustained."

HERE'S WHAT PEOPLE SAY ABOUT TANLAC

"If it had not been for Tanlac I would still be a sick discouraged woman, for nothing else seemed to do me any good," says Mrs. Edward Gibbs.

All the advertising in the world and all the sales efforts combined could not have made the great success for TANLAC that has been attained, unless this reconstructive tonic possessed merit of the greatest degree. Over 40-Mill Bottles of Tanlac have been sold and the demand is greater than ever before.

That TANLAC possesses merit and has brought relief to hundreds of thousands of persons is attested by the great number of testimonials that have been received by the company from people in every state of the Union and every province of Canada. There are over 5000 such statements on file with the company, all ringing with sincere praise for TANLAC and what it has accomplished.

Here are excerpts from a few of the 100,000 statements on file: Mrs. Edward Gibbs, Lancaster, Pa.—"For 2 years indigestion deprived me of nearly all the pleasure of life. I had been told of TANLAC and, if it had not been for TANLAC, I might still be a sick and discouraged woman, for nothing else seemed to do me any good."

Mrs. Mary A. Benago, Seattle, Wash.—"Following an operation my stomach and nerves seemed to give way and I became almost helpless. As a last resort I tried TANLAC and began to improve from my very first dose."

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Kaake, Detroit, Mich.: "For more than a year our three children, age 2, 4 and 6, had been so-peaked and lifeless that we were worried about them. Ways convicted in Ward county district court here of first degree robbery, in connection with a brutal assault made upon A. O. Hayden, 70, farmer of near Carpio, on Aug. 3, 1923.

District Judge George H. Mueller set the date for passing sentence which probably will be today, it is stated.

A neighbor found Hayden dazed and semiconscious in bed. The complaint said that three men entered his farm home at night, ordered him to throw up his hands and then beat him into unconsciousness as he lay in bed. Authorities took the view that Hayden's assailants had left him for dead. A physician testified that at least 10 blows had been dealt upon Hayden's head, three of which split his scalp open.

Hayden said the robbers took about $15 in money and several promissory notes which he held as collateral for loans. He was positive on the stand that King was one of his three assailants.

ADVANTAGE IN TURKEY 'CROP' IS HELD GREAT

Quick Turnover and Cheap Investment Necessary, Are Determining Factors

WHAT VISITOR FOUND

Editors note.—This is the third and last of a series of articles on turkey raising in North Dakota.

One of the advantages about raising turkeys in North Dakota, which commends itself to the farmer who is trying to get away from the single crop system, is the small initial investment that is involved. Another advantage is quick turnover. Even though no attempt is made to go into turkeys extensively, the results are nearly unbelievable in many instances. Even small flocks buy the clothing and pay the grocery bills of many families.

"I like to raise turkeys," said one farmer to a Northern Pacific representative, "because I know when I begin to work in the spring that I will have returns in the fall or within a year at the most. Many other 'side lines' require considerable expenditures for buildings, equipment, etc., but turkey raising does not."

There are certain things which turkey producers have to combat in every state. In some localities the most serious menace is thieves and dogs. Elsewhere it may be poultry diseases. Many farmers in North Dakota are clearing neat profits in spite of both.

Close neighbors and too many of them do not always go well with extensive turkey raising and North Dakota farmers, for the most part, do not have the situation to contend with which gives them an additional advantage.

Three Years Experience

All these points are illustrated by the experience of D. S. Wilkinson of Rugby, N. D. during the last three years.

In 1921, Mr. Wilkinson began his turkey flock with a nucleus of two hens and one tom. In 1922 he raised 100 turkeys, sold $1,000 worth and has over 100 birds left.

The first year he raised 50 turkeys and 150 the second year. Out of his 1923 flock he retained 70 from which he expects to produce 1,000 turkeys in 1924 and he still has 36 fowls to sell.

"Last year the net proceeds from other products on my 320-acre farm could not begin to compare with my income from the turkey flock," said Mr. Wilkinson.

Careful Picking Pays

Part of the results obtained by Mr. Wilkinson have been due to his methods of dressing, packing and shipping. He ships in boxes, 12 fowls to the box. The boxes he makes in two sizes out of half-inch boards. A size 14 by 14 by 30 inches is required to properly hold a dozen 12-pound birds and for birds which average 16 pounds, a size 16 by 16 by 30 inches is required.

Each box is carefully lined with heavy wrapping paper and the fowls are packed into the boxes in two tiers of six birds each. The heads are neatly wrapped in paper napkins and care is taken to see that every fowl is free from bruises and otherwise in good condition when packed. A card bearing the name of the producer, the number of fowls and the average weight of each is enclosed in each box.

While Delaware and Maryland turkeys were selling on the market for 35 to 40 cents per pound, Mr. Wilkinson received 43 cents and he ascribes the better price largely to his method of shipping. One dozen fowls, which he shipped brought a net price of $125 more apiece on the New York market than could have been obtained on the Chicago market, which he declares indicates that North Dakota turkey growers can sell profitably on the New York market in spite of the distance.

To raise 100 turkeys this year, Mr. Wilkinson has leased a 230-acre place adjoining his farm. In doing this he has eliminated the possibility of having very close neighbors and his flock will have a wide range without giving trouble.

Turkeys and Wheat
It has been the experience of Alfred Malmberg of route 1, Crookston, Minn., that a good turkey almost equals an acre of wheat for net profit. He expressed this opinion to a Northern Pacific writer.

The Malmberg farm is 320 acres and the principal crops in the past have been wheat and corn. Some dairying is done and this in connection with turkey and poultry raising, composes part of the diversification program.

Only a few of the turkeys produced are sold on the market. The bulk of the flock is sold for breeding. Toms bring prices ranging from $15 to $25 while hens for a minimum of $10. Just now, Mr. Malmberg said, the demand for breeding stock throughout the Northwest is very heavy and he is experiencing no difficulty in making ready sales.

"Scrub cockers would probably reach a weight of around 15 pounds at Thanksgiving," he said. "Well bred birds with proper care frequently weigh as high as 30 pounds by Thanksgiving and attain at least 20 pounds. The extra pounds in weight secured through good breeding is the difference between producing turkeys at a loss and producing them at a very satisfactory profit."

STORY OF BISMARCK BOYS' ACCOMPLISHMENTS IS TOLD BY DIRECTOR MACLEOD; TRAINED TO BE UPSTANDING LEADERS

"Around The Calendar With The Bismarck Boys" Describes Varied Activities in the Program of Work Being Carried on Here—Educational, Vocational Talks, Physical Activities Among the Many Means Used by Director.

By J. J. M. MacLeod
Director of Boys Work Bismarck, N. D.

The boys now in their teens are soon to be the men upon whose shoulders the burden of the nation's future will rest. As they are molded today so will the nation be created tomorrow. They are in that plastic stage where any set of ideals presented to them strongly and attractively will capture them and be served by them for all their future.

Our boys and girls are turned over to the school or the church in the hope that these institutions will do us credit in making good citizens out of them. The greatest influence is not the school or the church or the home. When we think of the boys eleven to twenty years of age the most effective influence upon these young minds is the gang or the street. A boy is brought into a man out of the parts of him that his parents and teachers are trying to throw away. The only place where the boy can learn the brotherhood of man is in the school of the gang. The importance, therefore, of gang direction or the direction of the gang time activities is very apparent. If you crush the fighting instinct, if you get the coward; if you let it grow wild, you get the bully; if you train it, you have the strong, self-controlled man of will. You have not a really safe citizen until there comes into the boys heart the desire to do right because it is right. He may be afraid of a jail, but he is not afraid of a war. He will not tell his father the truth if he is going to get a licking. We shall not get strong boys until we get those who have a conscience. Conscience comes through training of the heart rather than through training of the head. Conscience is a moral director; without it character is impossible, and character is the greatest need for it means that the pure in heart shall see and know and act the TRUTH.

Interest Physical
Ninety-five per cent of a boy's interests are physical. His spare time activities must appeal to him or he will not present himself. He has to go to school and sometimes he has to go to church, but he does not have to partake of the leisure time program unless he is so disposed.

Of the 645 boys attending our schools who are between the ages of nine and twenty years, 470, or seventy-two per cent, participate twice a week in our program for boys. Eighty-eight per cent of the boys attending the grade schools participate and 294 girls.

St. Mary's Catholic School is included and receives her share of the attention with the rest. Last year at St. Mary's Catholic school we met with their boys only—this year boys and girls have classes in Physical Training and Games. Sister Magdalene declares: "this work is not only good in itself but that it improves conduct, and enables the students to do better work. We think the work is wonderful and our boys and girls are delighted with it."

The program includes: Educational and vocational talks by business and professional men, practice of parliamentary procedure in groups, discussions of Life Questions of School Boys, camping, swimming, Life Saving, Hiking, Football, Baseball, Soccer, Basketball, Hockey, Physical Training and Games.

The Bismarck Boys Athletic Association, (or the Little Big Four, as we call it) includes the Wm. Moore, Richholt, St. Mary's grade schools and the High School Freshmen. Each school is represented in the Association by a Committee of three. One of the objects of this organization is that a boy who is a leader cannot represent his school, another is that if a boy's work and conduct is not satisfactory to his teacher he is ineligible for school competition.

Our boys are divided into the following classes: Young Corners, boys nine to eleven years of age; Pioneers, boys twelve to fourteen years of age; and High Y, boys fifteen years and over. The Young Corners meet every Saturday morning at 9:00 for physical training and games. The Pioneers meet one night a week where business and professional men speak to the boys, then in groups they assemble for discussion and games. The High Y club meet once a week to hear educational and vocational talks by business men and for a discussion of Life Questions of High School Boys. These boys also meet Saturday afternoon for Athletics and games.

Skating
Last winter the Elks made possible a skating rink at the Wm. Moore school and the boys got their first taste of Hockey. This year the lumber secured by the Elks will be used at the St. Mary's school rink. Owing to the weather Man mistaking North Dakota for Florida or South California have been unable to skate until the New Year.

Young Statesmen
During the last session of the Legislature the Wachtel Pioneers paid a visit to the Capitol. There are fifteen in this group and each came away with a different impression regarding how members attend to the affairs of the State.

Basketball
In Basketball we had twenty-three teams playing league games, 187 boys participating. The Basketball honors last season went to the St. Mary's school. This school is now the custodians of the F. A. Knowles Shield, emblematic of the City Championship.

Father and Son Banquets

At the Father and Son Banquet 616 Dads and Lads had a very happy evening together. Here the Dad came out from behind his parental mask and was a kid beside his own boy; together they sang songs, laughed over jokes and stories—both hearty and clever. They were moved to a better understanding as they listened to the speakers.

Boys' Secretary, MacLeod, was invited out to Father and Son banquets at Garrison, Steele and Wilton, and several visits were paid to McKenzie.

Athletic Meet
In the Athletic Meet last May, 225 boys competed in four events making nine hundred entries in the Meet. Each boy received points for his best performance in each event. This meant a tremendous amount of work as you who assisted in carrying out the Meet last year well know. The Meet required fifty Officials. There was no individual prize, each boy worked for the honor of his school. Only three boys of the total school enrollment eligible to compete failed to do so.

The Wm. Moore boys made the highest individual score thereby winning the Elks Trophy presented by the Elks lodge. This Trophy was won by the Richholt boys last year and becomes the property of the school winning it three times in succession.

Camps
Eighty boys attended our Camps and Camp Outings. Two camps were held at Lake Isabel where Rotarians were good enough to drive the boys, thereby cutting their camp expenses in half. The canoes loaned by George Will, Burlew Ward and Mr. Warren, of Dawson, contributed in a very large way to the enjoyment of the Campers. The Camp program is one of instruction, and is the greatest need for it means that the pure in heart shall see and know and act the TRUTH.

Boy Scouts
A Merit Badge Committee composed of Business men meet monthly to examine Scouts who are candidates for Merit Badges. Seventy-five Badges were awarded during the past year.

Forty Scouts made a clean-up survey of the City, charting ash heaps, tin can dumps, rubbish and manure piles, unsightly lots and back yards. This service made possible and comparatively easy a real clean-up campaign.

Thirty-two boys attended the Methodist-Presbyterian Scout Camp at Lake Isabel.

The three troops were the guests of the American Legion where the ex-soldier boys were entertained with Scout games and stunts.

All troops united in a demonstration of Scout Activities and were 'at home' to their friends in the High School Gym during Scout Week last February. In October the troops held a window display of Scout craft.

Letters have been received from a dozen boys who have moved to other parts, and all state that they miss very much the good times had with the Bismarck boys.

Extracts from the letters: "I miss the good old Sing Songs and the Group speakers." "No balls or bats or games for the fellows here—no fun in school or anywhere, the guys hang around the barber shops mostly."

"I thought it was great to go to a new place but I wish that I was back where there is something doing." "I miss the good old car to have a man's sympathetic interest in the things which are so very serious to him; to drive the boys to camp, or out on the relay race or at the athletic meet, to a man may mean so much time away from business—to the boy it means friendship, encouragement and frequently the turning point in his young life."

You may be inclined to stress the fact that 470 boys and 294 girls indulge each week in physical training and by physical training we do not mean entertainment or amusement in games but physical training as a real body builder. Boy Scout Work may strike you as the most important or it may be the Camp program, or the swimming or the group talks and discussions—all are part of the plan, the flower and fruit is in the development of the Leaders Corps.

This group of twenty-four High School boys who as leaders are banded together under the Motto of CHARACTER, CLEANLINESS AND COURAGE, who seek to further these things among their fellow students and to promote REGARD FOR PROPERTY, RESPECT FOR AUTHORITY and a clean wholesome atmosphere about the school. These boys and the recruits whom they may make are the visible evidence of a boys program eminently worth while for he who helps to mould these lives today will be setting his seal upon his country and upon the Kingdom of God forever.

Relay Race
Four teams fourteen boys to a team, fifty-six boys in all represented the school competing in relay races. The finish of this race was very spectacular, Richholt and Wm. Moore boys ran neck and neck for two blocks, Richholt winning by inches only.

On Armistice Day 500 boys and girls carrying flags, and headed by the St. Mary's band marched through the business section of the City to the Post Office where they formally saluted the Flag—the big flag reeled from the third story to the steps of the building. The whole affair was a very impressive spectacle.

Leaders Corps
Twenty-four High School boys, hand picked, comprise a Leaders Corps who meet every Saturday evening in the High School for instruction in Physical Training and Leadership.

Christmas Vacation
During the Christmas Vacation sixty boys took in the educational trips to the Telephone Company, Russell-Miller Company, Hughes Electric Company, Bismarck Dairy, Tribune Printing Company, Western Bureau and the Benson Optical Company. On these trips the boys were shown the workings of the machinery and the instruments by painstaking men who seemed to get much pleasure in making things clear to the young inquisitive minds.

Indoor Activities
Physical Training classes are conducted twice a week for boys and girls in grades seven and eight at the Wm. Moore and Richholt and once a week at St. Mary's, Wachtel and Roosevelt.

A class in physical training and games is conducted for boys ten to twelve years of age every Saturday morning at the High School Gym. Classes are also held for boys twelve to fourteen and for boys fifteen and over on Saturday afternoon, and one night a week these classes meet to hear a speaker and to discuss some topic in their groups.

Twenty-five business men take part in the Business Men's Gymnasium class at the High School. Here these men forget their business cares and once more are boys back on the old school grounds where they sold and 'kid' each other over misplays.

Fifty girls as Girl Reserves are organized into four groups and are taking work similar to that of the boys program.

Boy Scouts
A Merit Badge Committee composed of Business men meet monthly to examine Scouts who are candidates for Merit Badges. Seventy-five Badges were awarded during the past year.

LA FOLLETTE TO LAUNCH THIRD PARTY EFFORT?

This Interpretation Placed Upon His Announcement on North Dakota

LAYS FOUNDATION

Did Robert M. LaFollette's statement explaining why he withdrew from the North Dakota presidential primary mean that he is really planning to start a third party movement?

The interpretation is favored by George E. Akerson, political writer of the Minneapolis Tribune, in a special Washington dispatch. He says:

The first direct intimation from Senator Robert M. LaFollette himself that he may be willing to head a third party ticket in the coming presidential campaign is contained in a telegram he has just sent to North Dakota.

The Wisconsin senator withdraws his name from the presidential primary ballot in North Dakota and at the same time lays the foundation for his expected attack upon what the Republican national convention at Cleveland in June will do.

"I have no illusions about the Cleveland convention," he says in a telegram to C. J. Olson, chairman of the LaFollette campaign committee in North Dakota. "The steam roller will be operated there by the same forces that controlled it in 1912 and other years. The arbitrary increase of the unrepresentative southern delegations is sufficient proof of this."

To Offer Platform at Cleveland
Some time ago information came to the effect that Senator LaFollette had decided not to enter the primary contests in any of the states, preferring to have only the Wisconsin delegates fight for his platform in the national convention. It was then hinted that he intended to file as an independent candidate for president in certain states in the upper Mississippi valley, hoping to carry them and thereby prevent the Republican and Democratic nominees from getting a large vote in the electoral college. That would throw the election of the next president into the House of Representatives and, if that body could not select, into the Senate.

In his telegram to North Dakota, Senator LaFollette outlines the program he will follow. He says he will send "a strong progressive delegation to Cleveland to fight for fundamental principles."

It is known that through this delegation LaFollette will present a platform to the people. He expects that it will be turned down. That will leave him free, after the convention or to have lists of independent electors filed for him in certain states.

Cases Decided
The Commission on the Northwestern Bell Telephone Company to file, effective April 1, 1924 a revised rule pertaining to discounted service to employees and municipal, county, state and federal governments.

LEAGUERS IN MINNESOTA IN LACK OF ACCORD
St. Paul, Mar. 3.—Lack of unity was the outstanding feature of Nonpartisan league county conventions, held in Minnesota Saturday to select candidates to the state convention in Minneapolis March 13, according to incomplete returns received here Saturday night.

One Nonpartisan league convention denounced the Farmer-Labor party; others elected their delegates to the Farmer-Labor party state convention Saturday night. The league convention was associated with the Farmer-Labor federation.

Conventions in Meeker, Mower and Pennington counties elected delegations to the Farmer-Labor state convention. In Clay county the Nonpartisans did not meet, but the County Farmer-Labor convention elected delegates to their own state convention.

In Norman county the Nonpartisans met and chose delegates to the Nonpartisan convention as was done in Chippewa county.

Few of the conventions nominated or approved candidates for office, but Senator Magnus Johnson was recommended for reelection by the joint meeting of Nonpartisans and Farmer-Labor convention at Moorhead approved the senator's candidacy and that of Representative Knud Wefald.

Two of the conventions approved a third party.

COAL RATE BOOST ASKED

Carriers Propose New Schedule From Illinois, Indiana Mines

Following decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission in the so-called "Illinois Coal Cases, 1920" the railroads have prepared a proposed schedule of rates on soft coal from Illinois, Indiana and Western Kentucky to all stations in 16 states, including North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota and Montana. The proposed rates apply from several hundred miles in Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky lines and are generally increases over the present rates in varying amounts, averaging about 20c per ton.

The Railroad Commission is in touch with the situation, but suggests that anyone interested write to C. W. Galligan, Chairman, Illinois and North Carolina, Transportation Building, Chicago, Illinois for a copy of the proposed tariff, says a statement of the commission.

Effective March 3, 1924, the rates on sugar, carloads from Billings, Montana, via the Northern Pacific and Great Northern to Devils Lake, Drake, Fairmount, Hankinson, Lidgerwood and Minot is reduced 6 1/2 cents per 100 lbs. or $26.00 on a minimum car of 40,000 lbs. The present rate is 74 1/2 cents per cwt. and the new rate is to be 68 cents, the commission's weekly bulletin announces, other action as follows:
